

Moorish Strongholds Captured

Spanish Manoeuvres in Morocco Completely Successful—Villages of the Tribesmen Burning.

Madrid, Sept. 27.—The war office today announces the complete success of the manoeuvres in Morocco against the Moors. Both Nador and Zeluah have been occupied. As the latter town there was hard fighting with large bodies of Moors, the details of which have not yet been published.

Tribesmen Ask for Surrender Terms.

The ring around Mt. Guruga is now considered almost closed, and the position of the Moors is desperate. Caid Amas appeared before General Marina, the commander of the Spanish forces, yesterday, and asked terms of surrender for his tribesmen, entrenched on Mt. Guruga. The results of this conference are not known, but it is believed that the Moors are ready to submit without conditions.

The immediate successful termination of Spain's war against the Moors, which has been going on since July, would be of inestimable advantage to the government of Premier Maura, against which the agitation in Spain is daily becoming more intense among the lower classes. A large section of the upper classes, however, are showing warm support of the government. The minister of the interior is being deluged with letters begging him to continue the work of maintaining public order.

Moorish Villages Burned.

Alhucemas, Morocco, September 27.—The entire coast line here is illuminated with the fires of burning Moorish villages. After the Spanish batteries, in the fighting of yesterday, had silenced the native artillery, the infantry advanced and drove the Moors from their position.

Capture of Nador Easy.

Meilla, Morocco, Sept. 27.—The capture of Nador by the Spanish forces yesterday was comparatively easy, owing to the strategy employed by General Orozco, who made a feint in the direction of Zeluah. The Moors rushed to this point, and the Spanish commander then turned his men and marched into Nador. The defenses of Nador were razed, and the town burned by the Spaniards. The Moors had constructed deep ditches around Nador, evidently with the intention of putting up a stubborn defence.

From Nador the Spanish artillery shelled Zeluah. The positions surrounding Nador are now occupied by 20,000 Spanish soldiers.

Religious services were held yesterday to celebrate the victory, after which General Marina, the Spanish commander in chief, congratulated the troops in person.

Mendelssohn as a Boy.

A quaint description of the boy Mendelssohn is given us by one Devrient: "He took his place among the grown-up people in his child's dress, a tight-fitting jacket, cut very low at the neck, over which the wide trousers were buttoned; into the slanting pockets of these the little fellow liked to thrust his hands, rocking his curly head from side to side and shifting restlessly from one foot to the other."

Cat's Site May Cause Loss of Hand.

As Annie Kromer was walking along the street in Nazareth, Pa., she stooped to pet a stray cat. The beast sprang at her and fastened its teeth in the back of her left hand. Suffering excruciating pain, the girl ran several blocks to her home, with the infuriated cat still hanging on. It had to be killed with a club before it let go its hold. It is feared the girl will lose her hand.

The Provincialism of Self.

The narrowest provincialism is that of self. The natural man, like the singing bird, comes out of the forest as inevitably as the natural bear and the wild cat stick their heads out of the natural implies a consciousness that forbids all naturalness forever.—James Russell Lowell.

Wearied of the Piano.

Quite human and tinged a bit with suggestion is one remark Mendelssohn made to a friend in the days of compulsory piano study: "I am glad when Sunday comes, for that is the day I don't have to get up at five in the morning to practice!"

BREWERS GIVE WARNING.

Send Circulars to Liquor Dealers in This State.

The Connecticut Brewers' association have sent the following circulars to all the dealers of the state to obey the excise law or they will lose their business. The circular reads:

In the interest of our customers we deem it our duty to send this letter warning regarding violations of the liquor laws, and to urge upon them the necessity of scrupulously observing the law strictly within the meaning of the law.

From a reliable source we have been informed that there are agencies already at work keeping a sharp watch on places in different sections of the state, so as to be ready when the new laws become operative with evidence sufficient to cause the revocation of a large number of licenses.

The limitation bill, which goes into effect, Oct. 1, 1909, provides among other things that there can be no transfers of licenses from any person who has been convicted of a violation of the law concerning the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors during the next year preceding the application for such violations are still pending.

"Thus you can realize how easy it might be under our complicated excise system for unscrupulous persons to get you into trouble by asking you to violate some of the laws in order to accommodate them, and thereby lose your license."

"Obey the law and you will have no trouble. Violate the law and you will lose your business."

SAVED BY SHOES.

Derby Young Men While in Iowa Get Out of a Scrape.

Carl Dektor of Derby learned the other day that pairs of shoes sold by him helped to get two young men who went from this city out west to seek their fortunes out of trouble. These young men struck Des Moines, Iowa, a few days after a robbery had been committed in a shoe store there, and as they were strangers in the city and were seen to be wearing comparatively new shoes, suspicion pointed to them, the police thought. They were taken into custody and asked to give an account of themselves, and in doing so said that they came from Derby, Conn. They denied any knowledge of the robbery, saying they were not in the city when the crime was committed. The police laughed, and pointed to their shoes as an indication that the evidence of their guilt was on their feet. One of the young men, upon hearing that the police's suspicions were based on the shoes, that he and his companion were wearing, showed Carl Dektor's name and the words, "Derby, Conn.," on the lug. The other young man did the same thing. This upset the police throng and they were permitted to go.

WEDDING ORDEAL MUCH SIMPLER.

It is only the most pretentious wedding that has a maid of honor and six bridesmaids. A simple home affair seldom calls for more than two bridesmaids with the bride and maid of honor. Very often the bride has only one attendant, her sister, or her most intimate friend.

Wreaths of flowers in the hair are worn by the bridesmaids at home weddings and big flower-covered hats for church. The bride should wear a veil and orange blossoms.

It is the custom for the bride to give her maids some souvenir of the occasion; a pin usually.

The bridesmaids should give the bride a lunch during the week preceding the wedding, and to this no men are invited.

The church or drawing room should be decorated with flowers. This can be done quite simply and inexpensively with ferns or roses, and clematis can be used by those wishing to spend more money.

The color scheme may be either pink or white, although, of course, white is the most suitable. When a woman marries a second time she does not, as a rule, dress in white. A great many widows are married in their going away gowns, which should be in some delicate shade. The bride should appoint one of the bridesmaids to make a list of the wedding presents as soon as they arrive, putting down the name and address together with a brief description of the gift. This will be a great assistance to her, as she is always pressed for time.

The wise girl will not sew on her trousseau up to the eleventh hour and walk to the altar a pale, tired out bride.

Better fewer bits of finery and a healthy complexion and bright eyes.

We should all of us be glad that the day of elaborate weddings has gone by and that the simple ceremony is taking its place.

Banana Frosting.

For a cake to be eaten fresh make a frosting of one cup of confectionery sugar, a teaspoon of vanilla, and cold water to make of the right consistency to spread; add the water cautiously. Do not substitute powdered sugar, for it is not of the same grade as the confectioners'. Have the cake cold, cover with thin slices of banana cut crosswise, then cover with frosting.

Inserts for Lingerie.

The lace butterflies are among the prettiest trimmings for lingerie. They are carefully basted into place, then sewed with stiff thread, and the material cut away beneath. Of course, enough of the material must be left to be turned under so that no unightly rough edges will appear after one or two launderings.

MISS PARLOA'S WILL.

Bethel Remembered in Couple of Public Bequests.

At the hearing on the estate of the late Miss Maria Parloa, which took place at the judge of probate's office in Bethel, last week, Miss Parloa's love for and the desire to benefit the town she had adopted as her home town, is shown in the bequests she has made to the borough of Bethel.

To the borough is left her library, not including the volumes related to cookery, or such books as had been presented to her, and all of her book cases; also two thousand dollars in trust, the income to be used to assist in maintaining a library in Bethel. She also left the sum of $500 to go toward the purchase of an athletic field for the use of the young people of that town.

The other public bequests contained in the will are:

To the Maine Central Institute of Pittsfield, Me., one thousand dollars for the benefit of the Library Institute.

To the Boston, Mass., public library, all the books in her library relating to cookery and also $100 to rebind such of the books as might need to be so treated. The books which had been presented to her she gave to the late, William V. Alexander.

Why Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

GENUINE CASTORIA

Bears the Signature of

Letters from Prominent Physicians Addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. W. L. Laister, of Rogers, Ark., says: "As a practicing physician I use Castoria and like it very much."

Dr. W. T. Seelye, of Amity, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria for several years in my practice and have found it a safe and reliable remedy."

Dr. Raymond M. Evans, of Santa Ynez, Cal., says: "After using your Castoria for children for years it annoys me greatly to have an ignorant druggist substitute something else, especially to the patient's disadvantage, as in this case. I enclose herewith the wrapper of the imitation."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

Dr. W. E. Wallace, of Bradford, N. H., says: "I use your Castoria in my practice, and in my family."

Dr. Wm. J. McCann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. Howard James, of New York, City, says: "It is with great pleasure that I desire to testify to the medicinal virtue of your Castoria. I have used it with marked benefit in the case of my own daughter, and have obtained excellent results from its administration to other children in my practice."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. E. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Channing H. Cook, of Saint Louis, Mo., says: "I have used your Castoria for several years past in my own family and have always found it thoroughly efficient and never objected to by children, which is a great consideration in view of the fact that most medicines of this character are obnoxious and therefore difficult of administration. As a laxative I consider it the peer of anything that I ever prescribed."

Dr. L. O. Morgan, of St. Anthony, N. J., says: "I prescribe your Castoria every day for children who are suffering from constipation, with better effect than I receive from any other combination of drugs."

Dr. H. J. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. Wm. L. Bousman, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for your Castoria. I think so highly of it that I not only recommend it to others, but have used it in my own family."

Dr. F. H. Kohn, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "It affords me pleasure to add my name to the long list of those who have used and now endorse your Castoria. The fact of the long and successful use of your Castoria throughout the world is sufficient reason for the recommendation of any physician. I know of no good reason for not commending it to others."

Chas. H. Fletcher.
